

Clemente Veterans' Initiative

READ, THINK, TALK

The Clemente Veterans Initiative (CVI) was founded in 2015, with the aim of creating meaningful conversations between veterans and their communities through literature and art. The curriculum is designed to appeal to military and veteran culture, and potentially serves as a bridge to higher education.

Supported by a generous grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, CVI is coming to Houston and will be hosted at the Honors College at the University of Houston, in partnership with Combined Arms.

CVI: Houston offers a free course for veterans to come together to read and discuss important works of art, literature, philosophy, and history.

For more information, email: mjrayneard@uh.edu or lmorales@combinedarms.us or visit: <https://clementecourse.org/about-us/veterans>

YOU SHOULD CONSIDER CVI HOUSTON IF

- You're a veteran (all eras, branches, ranks, genders, discharge statuses are eligible).
- You're looking for a group of thinking, curious peers.
- You're considering going back to school or could do with some mental stimulation.

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU?

- All tuition, books, and materials are free of charge.
- Free transportation vouchers if necessary. Free childcare may also be available.
- Transferrable credit from Bard University is available.

WHERE: The University of Houston Honors College

WHEN: Tuesdays and Thursday, 6-8pm, from February 11-May 12.

TO APPLY GO TO: Combinedarms.us/cviapp

